45 Perish as Dutch Air Liner Crashes

Fourteen Americans Killed

Newspapermen Die On Tour

BULLETIN

HONG KONG —(UP)— Mrs. Dorothy Brandon of the New York Herald Tribune charged today that the Dutch Constellation which crashed in Bombay was sabotaged by the Indonesians.

BOMBAY —(UP)— A Dutch Constellation air liner carrying 45 persons, including 14 top American newspaper correspondents, crashed into a hill near here during a heavy wind and rain today, killing all aboard.

Mutliated bodies, among them those of nine women, were strewn over the rain-lashed hillside north of Bombay, where the four - engined transport crashed and disintegrated. One wing burst into flames when it hit.

The Constellation, returning a party of American and Dutch correspondents from a tour of Indonesia as guests of the Dutch government, made four passes at the storm bound Bombay airport, then it wheeled away to destruction on a 300-foot slope of the rocky Ghatkopar hills.

RECOVER BODIES

Late in the day 33 bodies had been recovered from the mud and wreckage. Drenching rains hampered the workers.

The local Royal Dutch Airline (KLM) manager said 45 persons were on the plane, including 14 American correspondents and two Britons.

Among the newsmen flying back from an inspection tour of Indonesia were William Newton of the Scripps Howard alliance; H R. Knickerbocker, WOR commentator; S. Burton Heath of Newspaper Enterprise association, Bertram Hulen of the New York Times, and Nat E. Barrows of the Chicago Daily News.

Two stewardesses and an American radio commentator, Elsie Dick of the Mutual Broadcasting system, were among the nine women killed.

The ill-fated transport, making a special flight to return the journalists after the tour of Indonesia, left New Delhi early this morning.

The U. S. correspondents were wined and dined at the embassy there last night. Ironically, one of them, James Branyan of the Houston, Tex., Post, remarked laughingly that he was glad India had allowed the plane to pass over, the alternative of which would have been a flight over the Indian Ocean.

"If a plane went down out there you'd be out of luck, he said.

The other Americans aboard were Charles Gratke, Christian Science Monitor; Vincent Mahoney, San Francisco Chronicle; John Werkley, Time Magazine; Thomas Falco, Business Week; George Moorad, Portland Oregonian; Fred Colvig, Denver Post, and Lyon C. Mahan, New York public relations representative.

12 Seek 'Am' Berths

Twelve Mansfield golfers teed off today at Westbrook country club in quest of match play berths in the 43rd Ohio Amateur golf tournament.

The Mansfielders were a part of the field of 103 stars from all over the Buckeye state vying for the 63 open positions. Defending Champion Harold Paddock of Cleveland does not have to qualify as he gets an automatic berth in the match play section of the tourney.

Three of the Mansfield contingent had completed their first nine holes by 11 a. m. today. Dale Rose came in with 37, Bob Carpenter had 39 and Gene Zediker, 40. Rose rates near the top of the field with a 27-hole total of 111. He had a 74 yesterday while Carpenter and Zediker each had a 79.

Low man at the end of nine holes among today's early competitors was Lawrence Carpenter of Norwalk who had a one-under-par 35. He now has 112 strokes for 27 holes.

Crossing To Get Blinkers

One of the most dangerous intersections in the county is going to get "Winkomatic" warning signals. County commissioners yesterday awarded the contract for installing the signs at the intersection of Bowman street road and State Route 96 to the Richland Electric company on its low bid of $156.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk said the intersection is "probably the most dangerous in the county where a county and a state road intersect." It is 10 miles north of Mansfield and east of Shelby.

The two Winkomatic signs will face Bowman street road traffic, which is a county road.

TWO KILLED THERE

There have been two fatal accidents at the intersection in less than a year. Edward L. Kindinger, 44, of 544 South Diamond street, was killed in a collision there last Sept. 29.

An 11-month-old baby, Terry Lee Ryan, 472 Hammond avenue, was fatally injured in an accident Nov. 8, 1948. There have been numerous other accidents at the intersection.

Other bidders for the work were Dudley H. Seltzer, of Shelby, $218, and Dayton and Crenshaw Construction company, Ashland, $270.36.

The work calls for putting in electric lines, transformers and connections for operation of the signals. The warning signals, consisting of flashing lights on stop signs will operate 24 hours a day.

56-Page Progress Edition Tomorrow Hails City's Growth Since War's End

From the presses of The Mansfield News-Journal tomorrow will roll the "Progress Edition," a big 56-page issue devoted to the steadily-unfolding story of Mansfield's growth and development in the post-war period.

The special edition, presented in cooperation with the community's merchants and industries, will show in graphic fashion the progress made by the city during the difficult readjustment period that followed the cessation of world hostilities.

Dozens of illustrations scattered through the pages of the paper will show new retail stores, new homes and new industrial buildings which have been constructed in the face of obstacles and shortages of building materials.

The new structures and the remodeled buildings stand as an expression of faith and confidence of the city's business and industrial leaders that Mansfield will continue the healthy growth that has characterized it in the past. It is this spirit of courage and foresight to which The News-Journal's "Progress Edition" is dedicated.

Among the many illustrations will be aerial photographs of the business district and the municipal airport.

One page will be devoted to the city's outstanding school program made possible by bond issues approved in whole-hearted fashion by Mansfield's citizens at the polls. The article outlining the school improvements will be illustrated with photographs of some of the new school buildings.

Another article traces the history of industrial development in Mansfield from earlier days, with emphasis on the growth in recent years.

Also told is the story of the city's churches and other buildings devoted to general public use.

The special edition will include the regular features and comics, and the usual quota of local, state, national and world news.

See Reuther Easy Winner In UAW Vote

Left-Wingers Losing Battle

MILWAUKEE — (UP) — Red-haired Walter P. Reuther was expected to rout his left-wing opposition today and sweep easily to his third straight term as president of the giant CIO United Auto Workers.

The scrappy 41-year-old labor leader appeared certain to emerge with more power than ever as the 2,354 national convention delegates voted for their four top officers.

Secretary - Treasurer Emil Mazey and Vice-Presidents Richard Gosser and John W. Livingston also were slated for landslide reelection victories.

This became apparent last night as 2,354 delegates unanimously endorsed the Reuther slate while only 100 delegates showed up for a caucus of the left - wing "progressive unity" slate.

Carrying the standard for the unity caucus was W. G. Grant, former president of Ford Local 600. John Lindall of Detroit was matched against Mazey for secretary-treasurer, while William Johnston and Dominic Digalbo were in the race for vice president against Gosser and Livingston.

The progressive-unity caucus, masterminded by Tracey Dill and Sam Sage of Detroit, was a loose coalition comprising remnants of the old UAW left-wing factions and anti-Reutherites.

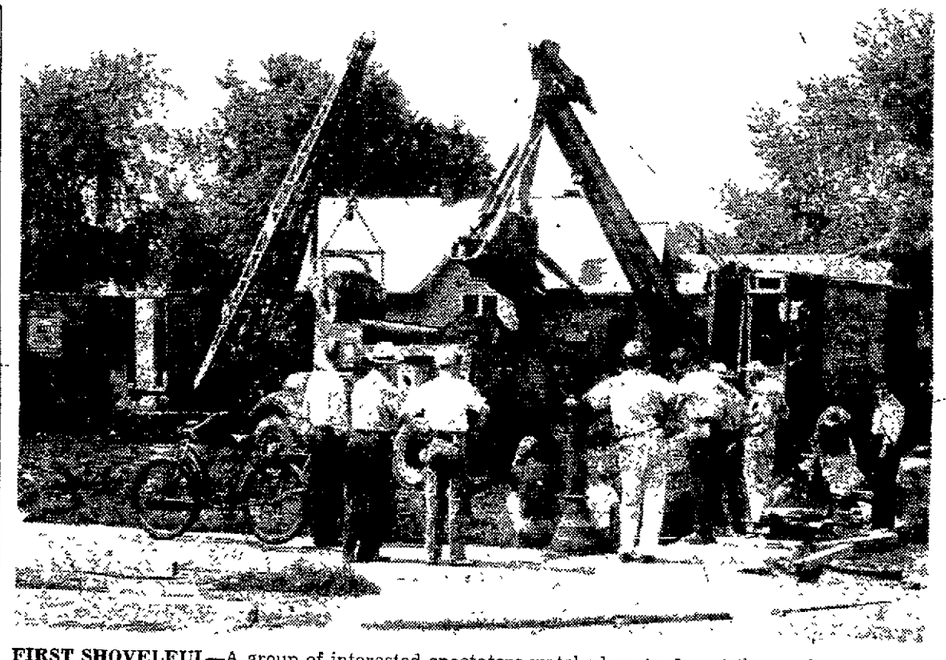
It was just a shadow of the powerful left-wing forces Reuther had to beat down in 1946 and 1947. This time the cocky energetic labor boss had all the strength he needed to carry out his campaign to crush communists in the union and increase his own control.

The only setback Reuther has suffered so far came late yesterday when the delegates voted six to four to reject his plea for biennial conventions and two-year terms for officers.

Eighteen Killed As Plane Crashes

AGADIR, FRENCH MOROCCO — (AP) — A French military plane crashed here yesterday, killing 18 persons, the French News Agency reported today.

The wreckage of a Junkers 52, flying from Agadir to Dakar with 12 passengers and six crewmen, was found on a beach south of here. It had plunged into the sea just offshore.



FIRST SHOVELFUL—A group of interested spectators watched yesterday at the northwest corner of West Fourth and Mulberry streets as excavation work began at the site of the new News-Journal building. They were the forerunners of many who are expected to watch progress on the $500,000 building which, with its equipment, will give Mansfield a $1,000,000 newspaper plant. The first shovelful of earth was hoisted from the site yesterday by a power shovel of Friebel and Hartman, Shelby, general contractors for the job.

Million Dollar Plant

Work Begins On New N-J Building

Construction is underway today on the new $500,000 building of the Mansfield News-Journal.

Excavators began work yesterday afternoon at the northwest corner of West Fourth and Mulberry streets, where the completely modern publishing plant is expected to be in operation early next April.

Contract for the work was let to Friebel and Hartman, Inc., general contractors of Shelby, after all local contractors had been invited to submit bids on the project.

The plan of construction calls for completion of a sufficient part of the work by Dec. 31 so that The News-Journal's new big four-unit Goss Headliner press can be installed. The press, purchased more than a year ago, now is under construction in Chicago, with delivery promised for January, 1950.

When cost of the new building, new press equipment and other equipment and furniture are computed, together with the property cost, this city will have a million-dollar newspaper plant which will be as modern and complete as any plant of its size in the country.

The new building, of reinforced concrete construction, will include a basement and two additional floors. It is to be 85 feet wide, fronting on West Fourth street, and 152 feet deep, extending along Mulberry street.

Charles W. Conklin is local architect on the project. Two contracts still to be signed are those for plumbing and heating and electrical work. These also were thrown open to all firms who desired to submit bids.

Taxes Top Half Million

The second-half real estate tax collection jumped over the half million dollar mark yesterday, but like the weather lately, Treasurer Charles C. Payne thinks the collection's "not too hot."

Monday's total of $18,505 boosted the collection to $500,393. However, Payne pointed out that $1,154,933 must be taken in by the deadline, 4 p m July 20

Farm Bill Fight Looms

Dems Caucus On 'Hot' Pace Measure

WASHINGTON — (INS) — House Democrats planned to caucus today on the Pace farm bill behind which the administration hopes to line up agricultural support for the 1950 congressional campaign.

The caucus is scheduled on the eve of the opening of debate tomorrow on the controversial measure, which repeals the Republican - enacted Aiken - Hope Farm act.

A stiff fight brewed on the bill and administration pressure is being exerted on the rules committee to clear the measure to the floor this afternoon so it could be taken up tomorrow. The committee met amid predictions that it would approve the measure, but reluctantly.

The bill sponsored by Rep. Pace (D) Ga. repeals the law enacted by the GOP-controlled 80th Congress and is scheduled to become effective January 1. It provides for a sliding scale of subsidy payments to farmers on basic commodities, beginning at 90 per cent of parity and going down to 60 per cent.

The Pace bill would repeal this law which could result in decreased benefits to farmers.

Kiki Climbs Into Ranks Of Society

NEW YORK —(INS)— Kiki, the alley-cat, has been prowling around with the international set for over a year now, and what's the result?

His owner, Mrs. Winifred Hunter, an assistant attache of the U. S. Embassy in Madrid, cited these achievements:

"He bathes every Sunday, boxes with gloves, and understands both English and Spanish. And he just loves a cocktail now and then."

But, even as with uncultured alley-cats, a cocktail too many and "Kiki gets wobbly —and sick."

Two File For School Board Jobs

Leedy Runs Again, Berkey In Race

Walton O Leedy filed his nominating petition for reelection to the Mansfield city board of election and F. A. Berkey turned in his petition for election to one of the board posts today.

Leedy, serving his second term, is employed by the Ohio Inspection bureau. Berkey, personnel director for the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, is seeking a first term on the board.

There'll be three vacancies, to be filled at the general election in November. Besides Leedy's, the terms of Harold W. Arlin, board president, and A. H. Fankhauser, expire at the end of this year. Both Arlin and Fankhauser have indicated that they will not run for reelection.

The terms of two others on the five-member board, William R. Riester and Harold A. Bruce, have two more years to run. Members serve four-year terms.

Leedy, a graduate of Bellville high school, and Ohio State university, came here in 1935 to take charge of the inspection bureau office. He is a Mason and a member of the First Methodist church. He is married and has one son. The family home is at 470 Woodward avenue.

Berkey, has been with the tire firm since 1925. A native of Wooster, he came to Mansfield in 1922, and was employed at Westinghouse before going with his present firm.

He is a Mason, a member of the First Lutheran church and was active in the organization of the Exchange club. He is married, has two children and lives at 303 Vennum avenue.

Real Summer Weather Here For Long Stay

Typical summer weather has returned to Mansfield—and most likely will stay here for a while.

The recent heat spell finally was officially broken yesterday, the weather bureau reports. Only in Wilmington and Cincinnati in Ohio did the mercury top the 85-degree mark.

Mansfield recorded a high of 80 degrees at 3:30 p. m. yesterday, while thermometers at 5:30 a. m. today stood at 59 degrees. Shortly before noon the reading was near 80 again.

An extended five-day forecast listed the temperature as around normal for the period. Scattered showers were predicted for Wednesday.

Temperatures were scheduled to rise into the mid-80's today and to drop to the mid-60's tonight.

500,000 Poised To Quit

Mediation Effort Fails

(Compiled from Wire Dispatches)

WASHINGTON — The White House today forecast speedy action by President Truman to block a threatened strike next week-end of one million steel workers.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen the steel dispute, focal point of labor's drive for fourth-round wage increases, "is under consideration." He added:

"There may be a presidential statement later in the day."

Presumably Mr. Truman hoped to act before the CIO Steelworkers union could formally authorize the walkout at a meeting in Pittsburgh today.

Ross did not indicate what steps the President was contemplating.

Meanwhile, CIO President Philip Murray stood ready to flash a strike order to 500,000 CIO-United Steelworkers. Murray said last night he will recommend the strike start this week end.

His recommendations are expected to be approved speedily by the steelworkers' 170-man wage policy committee.

Murray, after a fruitless 2½-hour conference at Washington with Cyrus S. Ching, federal conciliation director, said contract negotiations with U. S. Steel corporation and other basic steel producers are "hopelessly deadlocked."

The tight-lipped Scotsman hinted only presidential intervention could avert the walkout.

CHING MAKES REPORT

Ching later said he had reported to the White House without making any recommendation as to what action should be taken.

President Truman has the power to declare the proposed strike a danger to the nation's safety and welfare. He could appoint a fact-finding board and a walkout could be averted for 80 days.

Steel magazine says some trade authorities believe the steelworkers would be agreeable to such aciton "in view of deteriorating economic conditions over recent months."

But Murray hasn't indicated he will do anything but go down the line to support his demands for "adequate" pensions and "a living wage." The steelworkers have received three wage hikes since the end of World War II and now average about $1.65 hourly.

Their contract doesn't expire until 1950. However, a clause permitted it to be reopened this year for wage talks. If no agreement is reached by July 16 the union has the right to strike.

Murray proposes the steelworkers being walking off the job at midnight Friday and midnight Saturday, depending on contract dates. If no settlement were reached, they'd be followed by 500,000 more union workers as contracts expired between July 16 and next October.

Would Hit 2,000 Here

A threatened nation-wide steel strike, starting next week end, would affect approximately 2,000 steel workers in the Mansfield area, 1,000 of whom would be Empire Steel corporation employes, union officials estimated today.

The walk-out, recommended by CIO Chief Philip Murray, is set for midnight Friday and midnight Saturday when contracts covering 500,000 workers expire. But it would not hit this area until later when another half-million steel workers would go out as their contracts run out between July 16 and early October.

William F. Bell, staff representative of District 27, United Steel Workers of America, CIO, said four plants in and near Mansfield would be affected. However, contract lapse at these plants are from two weeks to a month later than the scheduled strike-time.

Plants affected, contract lapse and number of workers to be affected include: Empire Steel, Aug. 1, 1,000 workers; Ohio Seamless Tube company at Shelby, Aug. 1, 500 workers; Pollock Steel, Marion, Aug. 16, 400 workers; Shunk Manufacturing company, Bucyrus, Aug. 16, 85 workers.

Contract with the some 30 workers at Globe Steel does not expire until Oct. 6, Bell added.

It's Optimistic–Sound–Tedious–Gobbledygook

Varied Reactions Greet President's 11-Point Plan

(Compiled from wire dispatches)

President Truman's report to Congress yesterday drew wide editorial comment, with mixed reactions, in the American press.

The President's withdrawal of his call for new taxes met with widespread applause. His defense of government "deficit spending" was assailed by many newspapers.

Typical comment from a cross-section of the press:

New York Times — "It's over-all impression is reassuring, in the best sense of the term. His report steers a sane course between cloying optimism and unjustified pessimism."

New York Herald Tribune—"The total economic burden of the message is an argument against cost-raising boosts in wages. This would be to invite the tide of layoffs we seek to stem."

New York Daily News—"The tone of the whole message is optimistic and should be fairly reassuring to people who, short on facts and long on fear, have been trying to talk us into a panic."

Miami Herald—"The inescapable realities of the national economy have at last caught up with Harry Truman."

Newark (N. J.) Star-Ledger—The President's program is "sound and well calculated" on the whole.

Los Angeles Times — The message is "tedious and filled with gobbledygook."

New Haven (Conn.) Register —"The President in effect has utilized a statement of some 6,000 words to correct one error—that calling for a four billion dollar increase in taxation —and then proceeds to recommend the making of several more errors—11, to be specific."

Congressional leaders predicted that President Truman can hope to see only a very small part of his 11-point economic program passed this session.

A survey showed that only the request for restoration of the Reciprocal Trade act and for a study of investment and development needs in industry appear certain of fulfillment before Congress goes home late next month.

Bulletins

CHATSWORTH, Cal. — (UP) — A twin-engined, non-scheduled passenger plane believed to be carrying 44 passengers and crew members crashed today shortly after the pilot radioed that there was a fight aboard.

★

PITTSBURGH — (UP)— CIO President Philip Murray expressed the hope today that a nation-wide steel strike will be averted. Murray made the remarks to the CIO-USW executive committee and members of the wage-policy committee.

Hager Tops Contingent With Par 72

By CHARLEY STINE

Mansfield's bid for an Ohio Amateur champion on its own course appeared stronger than ever today after 12 of the 19 local men who played qualified in yesterday's opening round.

The dozen Mansfielders were among a star-studded field of 104 which set out after the 64 match play berths in the 43rd Ohio "Am" at Westbrook Country club. The field was to have been cut to 90 yesterday but 16 linksmen tied with 81 brought it to the overflow figure.

Al Hager paced the local contingent with a par 36-36—72 figure but it was Tom Neiporte, a 20-year-old Ohio State university sophomore who stole the show. Neiporte, a native of North College Hill, a Cincinnati suburb, fired five birdies to take medalist honors with a 70. He did it the hard way by going two under on the tough second nine.

Left behind was Harold Paddock, the defending champion who carded 33-39—72 for a four-way tie for third place. Deadlocked with him in addition to Hager was Richard Evans of Shaker Heights, and Allen Whaling of Cincinnati.

John C. Zoller, former Ohio State golfer and now assistant greenskeeper at the university golf course, was runner-up to Neiporte with 36-35—71.

PETE'S IN THERE

Right in there swinging along with the top-notchers was Coolridge's long-driving Pete Thoma, who had 36-37—73. Thoma carried on for his Public Links buddy, Ted Etzel, after the latter was forced to withdraw because of the death of his mother.

Etzel and Thoma had qualified by placing among the top 24 in the Ohio Public Links tournament.

Four men tied Thoma at the 73 mark. They included another Public Linkster, Vince Leskosky of Youngstown, Jack Fitzpatrick, Akron, Lt. Jack Mann of Toledo and Dow Finsterwald of Athens.

The other ten Mansfielders who will battle today and their scores are: Dale Rose, 74; Arnie Adams, 76; Carl Wiseman, 77; Bill Black, 78; Ed Blonston, 78; Bob Carpenter, 79; Gene Zediker, 79; Dick Hosler, 79; M. D. Ward, 80; Dick Koozer, 81.

Bowing out were Owen Hegarty, 82; Vic Salter, 83; Bob Cruickshank, 84; and Mike Orr, 95. Pete Linster and John Cook did not turn in cards and Bill Mercer and Jim Hegarty did not play.

The field will be cut to an exact 64 this afternoon even if a sudden death playoff is necessary. One spot is held for defending champion Harold Paddock and the others are open to the 63 low qualifiers.

Qualifying scores are counted as the total of the first 36, thus those with low scores yesterday have a fine chance of getting in.

CONGRATULATIONS—Mansfield's Al Hager was tied for medalist honors and looked to hold that spot until young Tom Neiporte, left, of Cincinnati, came in with a two-under-par 70 yesterday in the Ohio Amateur at Westbrook. Hager, right, had a 72. Jack Zoller of Columbus later came in with a 71.

High-Flying Golfers Play In Ohio Amateur Tourney

Tom Neiporte may be a high-flying golfer but there are at least three others in the same category in the Ohio Amateur. There's Bill Gressard of Kent who flew his own plane here yesterday, left it at the airport, and then flew home after qualifying. He will be back today.

The other two are Steve Pipoly of Youngstown, the Cleveland district champion, and Tom Jones of Cleveland. They plan to play their 18-hole rounds here today, then fly to Cleveland to play in the National Elks tournament at Sleepy Hollow, today.

Gressard was really the hard luck man of the tournament yesterday. He shot a 79 but only the queerest of all quirks kept him from being three strokes lower. Gressard's putt on the first hole hit the pin when his caddy was unable to dislodge the flag while the ball was rolling.

A two stroke penalty was automatic, then when the pin did come out the ball came with it and Gressard had another putt. Result: three strokes to the cup and three strokes "in" the cup.

Worry over what score would qualify for today's play turned more than one hair gray during the course of the long afternoon and early evening. One constant visitor at the press table with a "What do you think now?" query was Peck Selby, Akron policeman and Public Linkster.

Peck's 81, which did get him in, was nothing to be ashamed of when you consider that he bogied the first six holes. He parred the next three for a 42, then toured the "tough" back nine in 39.

★

Steve Lontchor of Akron's Breathnach Country club had an even poorer start with 44 but made it home in 37 for an 81. The first eagle of the ournament, shot on the 358-yard 16th helped Lontchor along.

Lontchor sank an eight iron shot from about 150 yards back.

★

Galleryites were in the minority yesterday but more are expected daily as the contestants get fewer and the scores better. Particularly if the Mansfield men stay in. Only sizable gallery yesterday was that following Al Hager, Lt. Jack Mann of Toledo and Allen Whaling of Cincinnati. The fans were rewarded as the trio came in with 72, 72, 73.

★

The 18th hole was the nemesis of both of Mansfield's two leading contendors yesterday. Al Hager came to the last hole laying one under par but bogied. Pete Thoma came in at even par figures and did the same thing.

Westbrook got a lot of praise from out-of-town golfers yesterday and no wonder. The course was in as fine a shape as possible.

Practically every golfer had the same comment as he turned in his card. "I hit the best shots of my life if I could only putt." A half-dozen three-putt greens appeared to be about par for the day.

The annual Ohio Golf Association banquet will be held at 7 p. m. today with tomorrow's pairings to be announced and the medalist prize awarded.

Every competitor, whether qualifying or not is invited to the banquet.

Plymouth, the Richland county champion, scored both of its runs in the first inning while Elyria rallied for three in the eighth and two in the ninth. Plymouth Pitcher Charles Wallace weakened after the seven shutout frames.

Five Indian Players At 'Star' Game

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Most of the Cleveland Indians will be around radios today as the 16th edition of the major league all-star game gets under way.

The Tribe will be well represented in Brooklyn, however. None of the boys will be in the starting lineup, but five of them will be on the bench and ready for action. And don't forget Manager Lou Boudreau who will be bossing his first "dream" team in interleague competition.

On the coaching lines are Indian brain busters Muddy Ruel and Bill McKechnie. Tribe Trainer Lefty Weisman also is a member of the Cleveland delegation.

In the pre-game workout, Tribe Coaches Mel Harder and George Susce will pitch and catch batting practice respectively. Sam Zoldak is another Tribester who made the trip to hurl batting practice. His home is in Brooklyn.

Joe Gordon, Dale Mitchell, Larry Doby, Jim Hegan, and Bob Lemon are the Cleveland players who figure to see action before the game goes along very far.

It's a tossup for which of the boys will be in there first, but Bob Lemon may get a call in the fourth inning to replace starter Mel Parnell of Boston's Red Sox. If Parnell finds the National league bats troublesome, Lemon may be called sooner.

DEFEAT DAYTON

A four-run explosion in the second inning sparked by little Roberto Avila's three-run homer clinched a 5-3 victory for the remaining members of the Indians against the Dayton Indians last night.

Avila also got another hit in three trips to lead the Tribe's seven-hit attack on the Cleveland farm club. Doing some nice pitching for Dayton was Jim Ladd who went the route.

Four Tribe hurlers, Steve Gromek, Gene Bearden, Mike Garcia and Frank Papish, faced the opposition, allowing six safeties.

The farm hands pushed one run across in the opening frame when Bob Kennedy overthrew first after fielding an outfield grounder. Another bad throw by Kennedy, this time to second, and in the second inning, allowed Sweetwater Clifton to race home from third.

A single by Clifton in the eighth drove in Stu Locklin for Dayton's final marker.

Eagle Meets Bozic On Pro Grapple Card

Don Eagle, the full-blooded Indian wrestling star, will make his second straight appearance in the Mansfield armory ring Saturday night when he goes against Freddie Bozic of Cleveland.

Eagle last week took two-of-three falls from Angelo Martinelli in one of the fastest shows staged here under the promotional banner of Clete Kauffman. Eagle and Bozic met in one of the feature bouts on a recent Cleveland program with the Indian winning when Bozic was disqualified.

The girls will come back in the semi-final. This time Viola Viann will go against Cecilia Blevins. Both of the top engagements will be over the two-of-three falls route with a one-hour limit.

Frankie Talaber, former junior heavyweight champion, battles the Great Mephisto in the 30-minute prelim affair which opens the show at 8:30 p. m.

Kauffman announced today that Clevelander Fred Wiedeman would take over the refereeing chores starting Saturday.

Tickets for the show may be purchased at City News.

Martin Steel Takes Top In 'Rec' League

Martin Steel took over undisputed possession of first place in the Recreation "slo - ball" league last night by blasting Coffee Shop, 24 to 5.

The Steelers have now won four and lost one. Leedy Electric had been tied for the top in the first round but fell before Phi Sigma Chi, 28 to 18, last night. Leedy has a 3-2 record which knots it for second with Western and Southern Insurance.

J. Pugh and B. Schuster each hit a home run as Martin Steel banged 23 base hits.

LEADS IN SECOND

News-Journal took an early lead in the second round of play by defeating the Westinghouse Clerks, 4 to 3, behind the five-hit pitching of Don Cram. The N-J hurler had a shutout until two were out in the last of the seventh. Fred Tharp's double with two on in the fifth provided the winning runs.

Farm Tools Pulls Biggest Softball Upset, 3 to 1

Liederkranz Pushed Out of Tie For Top

Cellar-dwelling Farm Tools last night pulled the biggest upset of the Mansfield softball season by knocking Liederkranz off the top perch in the fast American softball league, 3 to 1, at Gorman-Rupp field.

Farm Tools, potentially a fine ball club, had dropped four straight games in league play prior to last night. Liederkranz had been tied with Veterans of Foreign Wars for the top spot with four wins and one defeat.

Steady pitching by Jack Walters was the prime factor in the victory. Walters scattered three singles and allowed Liederkranz its only run in the first inning.

Wildness hurt Walters in the initial frame as Liederkranz scored without a hit. Al Baki and Glendale Uhlich, the first two men up, each drew a walk and Pitcher Kenny Windsor sacrificed to move the runners to second and third. Bill McCarrick's long fly to left plated the single run.

The Toolmen clinched the result in the third when Jim LeMunyon singled a pair of runs across the platter. Don Adams singled home the third tally in the fourth frame.

Windsor allowed Farm Tools only four singles.

Farm Tools may knock the league race back into a tie next week. The Toolmen are scheduled to play VFW tentatively next Monday. A Tools victory will necessitate a playoff between Liederkranz and VFW for the first round bunting.

Mansfield Women Finish Out of Running In Meet

TOLEDO—Four Mansfield women competing in the 26th Ohio Women's Golf association tournament over the Sylvania Country club course failed to get into the championship flight of 16.

Mrs. R. L. Henry topped the quarter with a 48-47—95, good for 24th place in the field of 80 contestants. Other Mansfield scores: Pat Hieber, 48-49—97; Jean Sauter, 54-50—104, and Marjorie Boals, 55-58—113.

Peggy Kirk of Findlay starts a four-day match-play quest of her third straight Ohio women's golf championship today.

In today's 18-hole match Miss Kirk is paired with Polly Martin of St. Clairsville, who shot a 43-41—84 to rank ninth among the 16 qualifiers yesterday. Miss Kirk carded a 38-41—79 compared with a women's par of 39-38—77.

Medalist honors went to Carol Diringer of Tiffin for the second consecutive year. Miss Diringer, who is expected to be Miss Kirk's chief competitor for the 1949 title, stroked a 39-38—77, to equal women's par.

The "baby" in the four-day championship flight play starting today is 14-year-old Barbara McIntire, a high school freshman from Toledo's Heather Downs Country club. Barbara's 42-41—83 qualifying round gave her a tie for seventh place with Carol Clark of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Neoma Copic Horgan of Toledo, 1941 champion, qualified with a 41-44—85, but another Toledo ex-champion, Mrs. Linton Fallis who won in 1939, missed a chance for a play-off by two strokes with a 46-48—94.

Today's pairings, with qualifying scores in parentheses:

Projects Gain Club Approval

NEW YORK—(AP)—Earth-shaking decisions were lacking today as the major leagues wound up their annual mid-summer meetings. But the ball players won approval of several of their pet projects.

The leagues, which met separately and then together, announced only one major decision. Next year's all-star game will be played at Comiskey park, home of the Chicago White Sox.

The players gained four objectives. They got the club owners to agree:

1. To uniform pitching mounds on the diamonds and in the bull pens.

2. To put cinder paths or something besides grass in front of outfield walls. (A safety measure for onrushing outfielders).

3. Improve lighting and a minimum standard of brilliance

4. Enlarged visiting dressing rooms.

Linta, Walker In Best-Ball Golf Tourney

The world's record-holder in the scholastic pole vault and the Madison high school football coach were among the latest batch of Mansfield golfers who signed for Sunday's Amateur—Amateur best - ball golf tournament which will be staged over the Coolridge and Possum Run courses.

Johnny Linta, the Senior high star who set the world record in 1939, will be teamed with Fred LaRue of the recreation department. Ennis Walker, the Madison grid mentor, will play with fellow "A" league shotsmith, Nick Komjenovich.

Seven other teams have submitted entries bringing the total to 22 duos. The latest entrants are: Fred and Gene Conrad, John Muntan and Gene Dillon, Jack Nagle and J. B. Moke, Don Bird and Joe Cipris, Nick Linster and Vin Tipul, Bernie Mathias and Jerry Rosenberg and Lyman Norton and Jack Paulson.

Tournament play has been divided into four classes. Officials at Coolridge, Possum and Westbrook country club will put the golfers into their proper classes. So far, Al Hager is the only entrant from Westbrook.

Golfers can get entry blanks at the three courses. These blanks must be mailed to the city recreation office, 14½ West Fourth street, by midnight tomorrow. The entry fee will take care of the prize list in each class. Merchandize prizes will be awarded.

Sugar Robinson Retains Welter Crown; Now Ready To Fight Charlie Fusari

By JACK CUDDY

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Ray (Sugar) Robinson, elated by his victory over Kid Gavilan, announced today that he was ready to make a fifth defense of his welterweight crown against blond Charlie Fusari at Yankee stadium Aug. 24, if proper terms could be arranged.

Robinson, who appeared in good condition despite his ordeal of paring down to the 147-pound weight limit, won the unanimous 15-round decision over Gavilan of Cuba before 27,805 in the huge municipal stadium last night.

It was 28 - year - old Sugar Ray who came on in the later stage of the bout to keep his crown by harder and more accurate punching. It was fortunate for Robinson of New York that he did have his strength; for the 23 - year - old Cuban tried to force the fighting throughout — tried to keep pressing the slender champion with a bobbing - weaving attack aimed chiefly at Ray's body.

Robinson, 147, made excellent use of his accuracy and explosiveness in the many furious exchanges that features their fighting from the fifth round through the eighth. After that the pace slowed up, and Robinson's superior boxing and sharpshooting enabled him to take all but the 10th and the 14th, Gavilan weighed 144½; but he persistently tore into his taller and slightly heavier apponent in the early rounds as if determined to knock him out.

There were no knockdowns.

In the hectic eighth round — the peak of the fight — Gavilan had Robinson groggy and reeling from head hooks midway in the round; but the champion showed his ruggedness and gamesness by coming back near end of the round and giving the challenger such a head smashing that it seemed the staggering Cuban might hit the deck.

Referee Charlie Daggert and Judge Harry Lasky voted similarly; each gave Robinson nine rounds and Gavilan six. Judge Frank Knarseborough scored 12 for the champion and only three for Gavilan.

The fight was a greater financial success than the members of the Philadelphia area, inc., had expected It's gross gate was $175,754, and its net was $128,435. Robinson will receive 40 per cent of the net.

National League Leaders Battle Today at Prospect

Office Cafe's clash with Westinghouse at Prospect park tonight tops the National Softball league card.

The two teams tied for first place in the first round of play and neither have been defeated in the second round. Westinghouse, 164th Fighter Squadron and Mansfield Tire are knotted for the second round lead. In first round play, Office Cafe nipped Westinghouse, 2 to 1.

Other games tonight are: Lumbermens vs. D. 7's M. Cigar store at Johns park and Ideal Electric vs the Flyers at Liberty park. The Cigars rapped Lumbermens, 16 to 5 and Ideal hopped over 164th, 11 to 1, in previous encounters.

One postponed game is scheduled in the Recreation "slo-ball" league. Leedy Electric meets Martin Steel at North Lake park. The teams are tied for first place with three wins and one defeat.

All league games begin at 6:15 p. m.

Young DiMaggio Moves Closer In Loop Swat Race

CHICAGO — (AP) — Boston's Dom DiMaggio surged eight percentage points to .338 to climb into feudin' range of pacesetter George Kell of Detroit with 345 in the American league batting race.

Third baseman Kell skidded three points in averages computed through Sunday's games with a total 97 hits in 281 trips. Outfielder DiMaggio had 102 blows in 302 AB's.

Third and fourth spots were held by two other Red Sox stars. Outfielder Ted Williams boosted his percentage by seven points to .326 while first sacker Bill Goodman advanced to the top ten circle for the first with .323.

They were followed by Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .318; Bob Dillinger, St. Louis, .308; Gerry Priddy, St. Louis, .304; Johnny Pesky, Boston, and Roy Sievers, St. Louis, .302 apiece; and Hank Majeski, Philadelphia, .299.

New York's Joe DiMaggio is breezing along at .350 but has been up only 40 times since returning to the lineup and is not eligible in the top ten ranking.

Change Game Plans

A change in tonight's softball schedule was announced late this morning by Stan Kamen, city recreation chief. The Ideal Electric-164th Fighter Squadron game has been postponed while East Side Night club will meet Westinghouse Engineers in an International league game at Liberty park.

Game Postponed

Gorman - Rupp's scheduled league game at Cleveland Lakewood tonight has been postponed because of the use of the Lakewood team's field by a convention. The Pumpers next game will be Thursday at Orrville.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Navy Bares Anti-Sub Invention

Radar Device Fights Snorkel

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The navy is fitting its airplanes with a new and secret radar device to "see" the almost invisible and deadly snorkel submarine.

A passing reference to this important development in antisubmarine warfare came from an admiral in testimony before a Senate appropriations subcommittee, made public over the week-end.

Vice Admiral J. D. Price, vice chief of naval operations, gave the first official intimation of the navy's new step in the battle against the submarine when, in discussing the need for detection of submarines, he told the subcommittee:

"By 1950, by June of next year, 25 per cent of the land-based planes, or about 10 per cent of the carrier-based planes, will be properly equipped with the new anti-snorkel submarine equipment, and by 1951 about 39 per cent of the land-based planes and about 31 per cent of the carrier-based planes that we have on order now will be equipped with anti - submarine equipment."

The snorkel or "breathing" submarine — perfected by the Germans and now in use by this and several other countries, including Russia — has been a nightmarish problem for anti-submarine experts.

The breather tube allows the submarine to operate on its regular diesel engines instead of batteries while submerged. Therefore, it can remain below the surface almost indefinitely and can travel at about twice the normal submerged speed or at 17 knots or faster.

But of still greater importance is that fact that with only the small top of the snorkel breather tube exposed (riding a foot or so above water) it is almost impossible for conventional radar equipment to locate the sub.

Moreover, recent development of an anti-radar "paint" confounded the problem. The paint reduces the reflection of the radar impulses striking its surface, thus reducing or preventing their reflection back the searching set of the hunter plant or ship. Radar waves normally will not penetrate water.

Price gave no technical explanation of the new anti-submarine equipment for planes.

However, the fact that it is airborne indicated strongly that the gadget works on a radar principle.

File Charge In Slaying

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A murder charge was filed against an ex-convict yesterday in the slaying of Clyde L. King, 50-year-old railroad engineer shot to death Sunday as he sat at the controls of a locomotive.

Police charged Fred Swanson Pritchett, 38, with the murder after two witnesses identified him as the man who fired at King in the Washington yards of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Pritchett denied the charge.

Detectives said the shooting climaxed a night of "partying" which began as a birthday celebration for King's wife, Eva Grace.

Officers quoted Pritchett as admitting that he had "had trouble" with the Kings, in whose home he was a lodger.

Two railroad workers, Simon H. Gibson and Frank W. Brown, said they heard shots shortly after King reported for duty early Sunday, then chased the assailant. Police said Gibson and Brown identified Pritchett as the slayer.

BIRD TEMPERAMENTAL

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. — (UP) — A mocking bird which prefers to ride in a car than to fly is a pet of Mrs. Anna Hayes, San Diego nurse. She calls her pet Baby and he acts like a baby at times when he doesn't get his way and breaks his tail feathers in vexation. Baby enjoys such delicacies as ice cream, peanuts, tobacco, tomatoes, cucumbers and eggs.

'Home Run Mature' Tells All

Stars Go Overboard For Charity Show

HOLLYWOOD —(INS)— The handsome leading men of movietown are knocking themselves out these days playing buffoons for the cause of numerous charities.

As Vic Mature explained.

"We're making plain, unadulterated jerks of ourselves. But we're glad to do it if we're helping charity."

A series of baseball games, among other benefits, is being held across the nation for one charity, the City of Hope. The first game, played in Los Angeles, resulted in Ronald Reagan winding up with a busted leg.

Mature captained one team with nothing more serious than a "charley horse" which kept him from making as energetic love as usual the next day to Betty Grable on the "Wabash Avenue" set at 20th Century-Fox.

"The comedians have it easy," said Vic. "They can drag out their old routines. But what am I going to do? Bring Betty Grable along and kiss her? It's tough on a leading man.

"So we turn jerks. We're not going to let the Bob Hopes and Red Skeltons get all of the laughs. Anyway the crowds expect you to do something besides muff a fast ball. They're out for a good time.

"I didn't mind missing the grounders because anybody might pull a boner there. But what killed me was when I'd be standing there, holding out my mitts, and a nice easy ball would fall down into them--and right through them. So I sent a buddy out to find a bushel basket. Mature wasn't going to disappoint the crowd. By holding the bushel basket, I could catch any ball, fast or slow. I was a second Joe DiMaggio."

Mature borrowed a St. Louis Cardinals' outfit, "just to give me class," lugged along a baseball bat the size of a fence post and a ball "guaranteed to curve." He signed autographs for the kids "home run Mature," and started a fight with the umpire.

"I thought stealing a base meant what it said," remarked Vic. "So I stole a base and started to lug it off. I was arrested for petty larceny.

"People said 'Look at that Mature! What a jerk!' That made me feel good. I knew they'd be coming back to other benefits.

"So I said to myself 'Vic, now and then you're all right. You great, big jerk.'"

Goes Back To Prison

WARREN —(AP)— Only two days after he was accused of holding up tow Warren night clubs, Edward Golias, 25, of Sharon, Pa., was sentenced yesterday to serve one to 20 years in the penitentiary.

Golias was sentenced by Common Pleas Judge G. H. Birrell for violating parole. He was released from the Ohio penitentiary last December, where he had been sent for auto theft.

He and Clarence C. Wasser, 26, also of Sharon, were charged with armed robbery in the holdups of the Rancho Villa and the Paradise cafe Saturday morning.

Court attaches reported only Wasser would be tried for the holdups at present. Golias' trial probably will wait until he is released from prison. Municipal Judge Ralph Speak fixed bail bond of $10,000 on each man.

Women customers at the Rancho Villa beat Wasser when he was caught. Golias was captured shortly afterwards.

Pilot Bails Out of Plane Without Chute

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. —(U.P.)— Melvin Adams, about 40, of Evansville, Ind., probably thinks paratroopers are sissies because they use parachutes. He bailed out of his disabled plane near here without one, and walked away.

Adams was flying his cub from Scottsville, Ky., to Indianapolis, Ind., when he ran into a storm. He made an emergency landing in an alfalfa field.

After the storm cleared, he tried to take off again. When his plane was about 20 feet off the ground, the engine conked out.

Adams jumped just as the plane began to nose over.

The plane was almost a complete wreck. Adams took a bus to Indianapolis.

Jail Chief After Mob Floggings

Claim Policeman Watched 'Riders'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (INS) — A suburban Birmingham police chief was arrested yesterday in connection with the masked mob violence in which 14 persons were indicted.

Chief Elmer Bailey Brock of Brookside, Ala., surrendered to Jefferson county Sheriff Holt A. McDowell and was released in $600 bond.

The sheriff meanwhile dispatched his deputies to serve warrants on the other 13 persons against whom a special grand jury Saturday returned 44 indictments.

The sheriff said that Brock, accused of neglect of duty and intimidating a witness, allegedly watched a demonstration of night riders at a Brookside cafe.

The masked mobsters threatened a Brookside cafe owner, Steve Marshlar, for serving Negroes at his place.

The incident occurred three weeks ago.

Brock also is alleged to have attempted to intimidate an unidentified girl grand jury witness by reportedly telling her: "You'd better make sure you know what you're saying."

Officers also arrested Robert E. Chambliss, 45, an employe of the city of Birmingham repair shop. He was held in lieu of $1,000 bond, on the charge of "flogging while masked."

Officials said Chambliss was involved in the May 25 flogging at Coalburg, Ala.

Grange Master Flays Opposition

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Joseph W. Fichter, Ohio Grange master, said last night he is being opposed by a Licking county group which "tries to instigate trouble wherever possible."

He made the remark after members of the Licking county Pomona Grange said yesterday they would attempt to oust Fichter from his high post as master of the state Grange. In a statement issued to newsmen, Fichter said the opposition came from a group in the grange who are engaged in what he termed "commercial activities."

Alliance Aids In ECA Crisis

Thanks to the decision which the Atlantic pact registers, the western world is able to do this year what it could not have done last year—to face up to the crisis of the European Recovery program without the fear that it might be a temptation to military aggression.

That is the outstanding accomplishment of the past twelve months: to have won enough military security to permit us to discuss objectively and to treat without panic the deep and stubborn issues of economic recovery.

But it must also be said that the Administration has as yet no policy, Congress and the American people have not as yet been helped to prepare themselves, for the choices and the decisions which this historic cirisis is presenting to us.

The action of Sir Stafford Cripps in declaring a standstill until September is a reprieve. It means that during the remainder of the summer measures which would split the free world and produce incalculable political results in Britain, in Europe, and in the commonwealth and empire, will be held in abeyance.

The time is short, and we cannot afford to waste it in recrimination or in complacency—either in nominating scapegoats instead of searching for solutions, or in shrugging off the reality and the gravity of the crisis.

Ever since the first meeting at Paris two summers ago, we have been on notice that while the Marshall plan was another indispensable installment of interim aid, it was not the plan, which it was said to be, for the restoration of European solvency at a rising standard of life. It has been evident from the beginning to those who knew the facts that the figures were doctored for reasons of political expediency.

They underestimated the European dollar deficit. They exaggerated with the most wishful kind of thinking the prospects of the European export industries and of the markets where exports could be sold. Two years ago, even before the Marshall plan was first submitted to Congress, it was a mathematical certainty that the crisis which has now arrived must come at the very latest when Marshall aid stopped in 1952.

The chances of postponing the cricis even that long depended not only on prodigious efforts and sacrifices and austerity in Europe, not only on miracles of mutual aid and enlightened national unselfishness, but most of all on an uninterrupted continuation of the American post war inflationary boom.

The second report of the Marshall countries, made in Paris last December, showed that there had indeed been a remarkable effort to produce. But no miracles of mutual aid and international collaboration were happening, or were going to happen within the near future. Therefore it was certain that the crisis of the Marshall plan would come sooner than 1952.

It would come, in fact, when the American inflationary boom was halted and deflation set in. Or it would come when the revival of production made Britain, Belgium, France, and Western Germany competitors in a buyers' market.

By April of this year both of these conditions had developed together.

Since April it has been manifest that the crisis of the European Recovery Program was unavoidable this summer.

The real difficulties, which have been hidden temporarily and are now disclosing themselves, cannot be overcome by any politically agreeable device. Yet a failure by British and American statesmen to grasp the nettle, to deal with the problem of the crisis bravely and with perseverance, will surely entail consequences later that will be infinitely more disagreeable and more unpopular.

Ohio Cities Win Two Big Rounds In Fight for Added Aid

Youngstown Plan Gains Senate OK

Would Boost Liquor Prices

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Hard-pressed cities won two big rounds in their fight for more state financial aid

The Senate Monday night approved a five percent increase in state liquor prices. Sponsors figure that will raise an extra $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 for local governments. The vote was 18-10. If the House concurs, it will boost the state liquor monopoly's profit margin from 30 per cent to 35 per cent.

The measure is designed to permit grants of $18,000,000 annually to cities and other local governments They now get $12,000,000

The increase is part of the "Youngstown Plan," named after Sens. Clingan Jackson and Nicholas P Bernard They are Youngstown Democrats Senate action on the liquor mark - up bill apparently shook the Youngstown measures out of the House rules committee Members scheduled a vote on them in the House Wednesday They cleared the Senate weeks ago

The other part of the plan deals with the $15,000 000 revenue from intangibles taxes on financial institutions. The state now returns that money to cities where it is collected That aids banking centers like Cleveland and Cincinnati at the expense of other cities, Jackson and Bernard claim.

They want the money distributed by the formula discarded two years ago. That will give cities other than Cleveland and Cincinnati a "better break", they claim

The House also set the uniform municipal court bill for a vote Wednesday It would create nine new courts and put present courts under a single law. Courts now operate under separate acts The measure passed the senate

House leaders said representatives will concur today in a Senate resolution to quit work Friday and end the session July 29. Approval by both houses is needed to make the deadline official.

Rushing to clear its decks, the Senate scheduled action on 14 bills. That's about double the usual daily total. One is a House-passed measure to permit quail hunting after a ten - year propagation period Quail now are classified as 'songbirds" and can not be hunted

Sen Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga) said the $67,000,000 state budget probably will come to a vote in the Senate Wednesday. It carries money to run the state for two years starting July 1 Miss Mahoney is Senate majority leader

No FM Radio For Mansfield

ANNOUNCEMENT that Mansfield will, after all, have no frequency modulation (FM) radio station provides another example of bureau politics as practiced by the Federal Communications commission.

Cloaked in its habitual phony phraseology of "public interest" the FCC 18 months ago granted an FM radio station license to Richland, Inc., operator of an AM or standard broadcast radio station in Mansfield. The FCC followed this up with a grant of another Mansfield FM station license to Toledo Lawyer Edward Lamb.

Lamb, who received five radio broadcast licenses in three weeks from the FCC, held his Mansfield permit only a few months, never did any work toward establishing a station here, and then gave it up after some of his past history was brought out for public consideration by this newspaper. His record of communist writings, unsavory court practice, his financial statements in his radio application and his record of connection with communist "front" organizations, as revealed here, brought repercussions even in Congress.

And now, with announcement that Richland, Inc., also has voluntarily surrendered the FM radio station construction permit which it sought so eagerly 18 months ago, it appears that the "public interest" and necessity with which the FCC claimed to be so concerned, has not been served at all. It would appear that the people of the community, whose interest should be the real concern of the FCC, received very minor consideration in the entire transaction, if any.

So comes to light another example of the FCC policy of lending its aid—and incidentally the sanction of the federal government—to schemes of promotion. It is another example of accepting at face value the claims and contentions of its favored applicants. Real worth of the schemes and claims has now been demonstrated. Lumped together, they wouldn't provide the price of a cup of coffee.

Mr. Truman's 'About Face'

AT FIRST GLANCE, President Truman appeared to do an about-face yesterday in his semi-annual economic report to Congress on economic conditions in the nation. He gingerly dropped his heretofore insistent demand for a four-billion-dollar tax increase. And he abandoned his fancy that the nation is still threatened with inflation.

But except for his altered stand on taxes, the President followed pretty much the old-New-Deal line of spend and spend and spend. He said this is no time to cut government outlay in an effort to balance the budget. He prefers that the government continue its dizzy 17-year "system" of spending more than it takes in—and let future generations worry about how to pay the difference.

Mr. Truman wants business to cut prices; but it must not reduce wages. Indeed, he would increase the minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour.

The government should prime the pump with $9,000,000,000 spent on public works, the President said, adding that unemployment benefits should be increased and that payrolls should be more heavily taxed. He also wants more money to be given to the farmers by all the taxpayers through the Brannan plan.

On the whole, it would appear that Mr. Truman seeks to improve the current economic situation with a purely political formula which only succeeded in prolonging the last depression. His about-face on the tax increase proposal was common-sense to the extent that the proposal itself was sheer folly under present conditions.

If we are to have any economic leadership in government it appears from yesterday's speech that such guidance will have to come from Congress.

Then there was the chap who climaxed the heat wave stories by saying that he looked down at his shadow and noticed it was perspiring.

What Some Other People Are Saying

PAUL G. HOFFMAN, European cooperation administrator: "It is only Britain that can save Great Britain. Anything that we can do quickly to help Britain expand her export sales will now have a new meaning."

Why Chiang Wants More U. S. Help

By JAMES D. WHITE
(For Dewitt Mackenzie)

CHIANG KAI-SHEK has said it again.

—If America doesn't come to his aid, the communists will take all China and eventually Asia.

Chiang has said this many times. It still is true that because of the profound unrest and poverty in both China and Asia, communism has easy going there.

But the Generalissimo is talking about only half the question. He tells us what will happen if he doesn't get American aid. He does not say what will happen if he gets it.

Maybe that would be because he has sunk to his present low estate during a period when he was getting help from America.

At V-J day he was still a national hero, symbol of China's fight against the Japanese invader. Today Chiang is the "retired" leader of a vestigial government whose hold on the Chinese mainland is conditioned largely by how soon the reds decide to push it off entirely.

It got into this fix while getting American aid, and the evidence is that one or both of two things are true: either the aid wasn't enough, or was misused to such an extent that it didn't do what it was supposed to do.

Both are probably true. American aid to Chiang to fight the communists (one figure cited is $4 billion) was never more than a fraction of that voted for Europe. And the story of what happened to American-equipped and trained Chinese armies is one of the most profound studies in futility and corruption the world has witnesses for some time.

Would fresh aid be any better used? The answer lies in another question-is what is left of the Chinese nationalist government any more capable of using help efficiently?

There is no concrete evidence of that, and in fact the little evidence available is that what resistance there is left in China depends upon regional chieftains like the Moslems in the northwest whom Chiang never could depend upon in the past.

Why, then, does he ask again for American aid?

While there's life, there's hope, and Chiang says he is still the leader of the Chinese revolution. Perhaps two hundred million Chinese behind red lines will think this is a joke, but Chiang apparently thinks he still could command their respect and allegiance if America would stake him to more anti-communist civil war.

* * *

Chiang's Belief.

Last winter in China, every Chinese with whom I discussed the matter told me of another profound conviction that Chiang holds. This is his firm belief that a third world war between Russia and America is inevitable.

In his request for aid he says one is inevitable—if he doesn't get American help. Informed Chinese say he thinks World War III is inevitable no matter what happens. His whole strategy is based on this idea, that war is coming. I might add that most Asiatics seem to agree with him. There belief steams from a way they think America and Europe concentrate on western problems and neglect those in Asia.

Anyway, as many Chinese explained it to me, Chiang has staked everything on prolonging the existence of his regime as the legal government of China until war breaks out.

Then, they say, he will again become a necessary ally of this country against Russia, just as he was against Japan.

His price for being an ally will rise accordingly, they predict.

Washington Calling

Sees Economic Isolation

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—The big headlines about the pound and the dollar hide the real meaning of the crisis faced by Western Europe and the United States. As Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder and Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, sit down to debate money and trade policies, they will, in reality, be debating what kind of temporary poultice to apply to a major maladjustment.

A few officials here in Washington understand that. But they are for the most part on the lower levels and when they dare to speak out loud they are not listened to. One of them put it this way:

"The enourmous productive power of the United States has made the economic isolation of this country inevitable unless radical steps are taken quickly. No other country can even begin to compete with the American productive machine. Even in the field of raw materials, as a result of the war, America is pulling away from the rest of the world."

Thus imports of raw rubber from the far east have been dropping in recent months. Rubber from Malaya was an important source of dollars for the British before the war. A new process now being put into production in this country makes synthetic rubber superior to the natural product and at a competitive price.

Take, as another example, Chilean nitrates, the sale of which is important to Chile's economy. By a synthetic process these can now be manufactured more cheaply in this country.

One product — nylon — developed in the main since 1939, cuts across several raw material suppliers, conspicuously silk Fibres imported from the Philippines and elsewhere for rope and containers are being replaced by synthetic mass production here at home.

All this is reflected in the figures. Last year the United States exported to Europe more than three times as much as was imported from Europe.

* * *

Trade Pacts Bob Up.

The British - Argentine trade pact is only one example of the kind of barter trade that almost every country is being forced into by the colossus of American competition. More than 300 such bilateral trade pacts are in effect in an ever-narrowing economic pattern.

The answer? Here you get on such delicate political ground that even lesser officials hesitate to talk. But what they are saying gets down to the following:

"This country is giving away several billions a year under the European recovery program. But that is not enough to balance the gap created by America's enormous surplus of exports—in reality America's enormous surplus of production which is way above the volume of goods sufficient to sustain the high prosperty standards of the postwar years here at home.

"The only hope is for immediate action on President Truman's point IV on a far more radical scale than anyone in responsible official position has as yet contemplated. We must send abroad not merely know-how but American machines to build up production in other areas.

"This must be done by private American capital, perhaps guaranteed by this government. If that proves impossible, or too slow, then it must be done through government loans or grants."

Doctors Gain In Atomic Research

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — While the Atomic Energy commission is informing Congress of streamlined methods for bigger and better atom bombs, army doctors have been working quietly to prevent loss of life from those same bombs—and with surprising success.

It can now be stated that, as a result of this research, army doctors have lost part of their fear of the bomb's casualties, and that at least 20 per cent of the lives lost at Hiroshima could now be saved.

This is the conclusion of Col. Elbert de Coursey, commandant of the army's medical research school, whose principal assignment has been to prepare medical defenses against the atomic bomb.

He explains that 65 to 85 per cent of the victims at Hiroshima and Nagasaki died of burns and injuries, easily treated by medical science. The challenge to the medical profession therefore is to abandon the present method of treating each patient as an individual, and work out a system of mass treatment. Even the assembly - line technique, Dr. de Coursey suggests, may have to be applied to medicine.

The doctors have also made progress in treating atomic radiation, which attacks the blood cells and causes hemorrhages. Tests on the animals at Bikini showed that atomic hemorrhages can be stopped by a commom dye, known as toluidin blue dye. Thereafter the problem is to have enough blood plasma on hand to administer mass transfusions.

As further proof that the atomic bomb isn't as devastating as it has been built up to be, Dr. de Coursey claims that a person might even survive when directly underneath an atomic explosion—provided he were protected by a few feet of earth or concrete.

Furthermore it is believed that a person could come out alive from a simple, six - inch, concrete shelter, located even within the two-mile radius previously considered fatal.

In both cases the shelters would protect those inside from the deadly gamma rays. But whether the shelters themselves could withstand the terrific concussion, Dr. de Coursey points out, would depend upon how much was absorbed and deflected by the surrounding buildings.

Note — Dr. de Coursey admits that the super atomic bomb, developed since Bikini, would increase the casualties but not change the medical problem. The bigger the bomb, the more the patients, but their treatment remains the same.

Another Cabinet Illness.

The Truman administration may have the unfortunate experience of another very sick cabinet member, unless friends of Secretary of the Interior "Cap" Krug take him in hand.

Krug's fainting spell while testifying before the House Public Lands committee last month was not an isolated case, but the third time this has happened publicly.

While making a speech in Los Angeles, Krug was forced to stop, retire from the rostrum, and could not resume. Again, at Phoenix, Ariz., while speaking on a national radio network, Krug was only two minutes through his address when he started to keel over and had to hand his speech over to someone else to read.

After his recent illness before the House Public Lands committee, Krug rested for half an hour, went back in the committee room and made a heroic effort to resume his testimony. He was unable to do so.

A hulking figure of a man, and only 42, Krug looks the picture of health, but developed an athlete's heart while a football star at Wisconsin. This is now aggravated by high blood pressure and a weight of 270 pounds which he has not been able to reduce.

It has also not been helped by long and grueling hours in government service. Krug had an outstanding record with the Tennessee Valley authority, performed a skillful and difficult job as chairman of the War Production board, also served in the navy.

As secretary of the interior, Krug did a good job of battling John L. Lewis, but since then poor health has forced him to be one of the least active members of the cabinet. After his Los Angeles fainting spell, he was wise enough to take three months off. But another two months was necessary after the Phoenix incident. Since then, Krug is less frequently in his office than any other cabinet officer. Yet either pride or devotion to duty forces him to keep up the pretense of official activity.

The tragedy in the Forrestal case was that friends encouraged him to remain in office when many knew he was desperately tired and on the verge of nervous exhaustion. Friends of "Cap" Krug would do well to see that he does not make the same mistake.

New U. S. Citizens

Attorney General Tom Clark's campaign to educate naturalized Americans on the duties of citizenship is getting vigorous support from New York's radio station WHOM. Generoso Pope, who owns the station, came to this country from Italy with no parents, found his first job at the age of eight, but has now risen to become one of New York's most potent leaders.

So he feels that he knows something about the advantages of U. S. citizenship and he wants others of New York's vast foreign - born community to feel the same.

Run by his son, Fortune Pope, WHOM broadcasts in foreign languages 17 hours a day—longer than any other station in the U. S. A. During the Italian elections last year, WHOM arranged shortwave broadcasts from New York Italians to their relatives abroad, with the result that thousands sent democracy messages orally to the folks in the old country. It had an important effect on turning the election for democracy.

Congressional Teamwork

The closed - door meeting of Senate and House conferees on the public housing bill was a model of how Congress should, and can, act when it wants to. A total of 102 differences in Senate and House versions of the bill were ironed out in jig time.

Even G. O. P. Representative Jesse Wolcott of Michigan, leading congressional friend of the real estate lobby, went out of his way to cooperate in expediting a joint report of the bill.

However, Wolcott was suspicious when Senator Burnet Maybank of South Carolina, a Democrat, wanted to insert an amendment guaranteeing that tenants wouldn't be moved out of slums faster than new public housing could be built for them.

"Why do you want to put that in the bill?" he asked Maybank.

"Well, to be very frank, it will get us some more votes in the next election," grinned the South Carolina senator.

Maybank's engaging frankness so startled Wolcott that he dropped his threatened objection, and the Maybank amendment was approved.

Assignment: America

Hail To the Jurors!

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — "I'm in love I'm in love, I'm in love with a wonderfull guy," if I may make so bold as to borrow a singing phrase from Miss Mary Martin of "South Pacific." I am equally infatuated with his feminine counterpart.

For convenience sake, let's call him Joe Doakes and her, Jane Doe. The man and woman who sit in jury boxes the nation over. Doing what doesn't come naturally to Americans—their civic duty.

But there sit Joe and Jane, wrestling with strange problems of law and evidence, each grappling with his conscience and struggling to arrive at a conclusion both right and just.

I have had a good long look recently at two juries wrestling with two of the most important trials in this generation, the Hiss perjury case and the continuing trial of the American politburo.

And if I am ever fool enough get tangled up with the law all I ask are jurors of comparable quality to those in these two instances.

I am deeply disappointed that the Hiss trial ended in a hung jury. But even here I find a broad beam of hope. That jury hung itself in a manner to convince even the most skeptical Americans that rugged individualism has not yet been read out of the nation.

If looks could have killed, the twelve good men and true women comprising the Hiss jury would now all be laid out on marble slabs.

The eight in favor of convicting Hiss glared at the four in favor of acquittal as the judge finally dismissed the jury. And the stubborn quartet, its ears laid back, returned the glare with interest.

It is scarcely decent to consider what might have happened if either faction had, perchance, come into possession of a really solid baseball bat. Men and women do not get such hard, irreconciliable rages except out of deep and honest conviction, and I cannot quarrel with a jury that splits on such a rock.

For my money, this angry cleavage among the jurors elevated to the rank of man-of-the-year a minor executive from the Bronx named Allen M. Blake, one of the jurors who voted for conviction and made that eventuality possible.

The Blake defiance of the Supreme Court justices, rather like David winding up to sock Goliath, settled an issue and settled it surprisingly generally for most of the reporters who have covered the Hiss trial.

* * *

Unawed By Bigwigs.

Newsmen felt the appearance of two Supreme Court justices as character witnesses would weigh heavily in Hiss's favor with the jury, but it is obvious that the average Joe Doakes thinks on his own feet, and that when he himself must wrestle with the fundamental problems of truth and justice, he is not to be swayed by his big names or overawed by great public figures.

One other facet of the jury seems encouraging to me, too. Newsmen were convinced that the two women of the jury would be ready victims of Alger Hiss's boyish charm.

But the newsmen were only half right. Mrs. Louise A. Torian, a small plump, grandmotherly woman, voted for acquittal and stamped out of the court house in a sixteen-cylinder dudgeon.

The other woman juror, Mrs. Helen S. Sweatt, adamant for conviction, left in a rage. Proof, seemingly, that women jurors have convictions as well as emotions.

Farmer's Diary

A Cheap Extravagance

By CALVIN A. BYERS

SHE is past seventy, I know. So is her husband. They have a beautiful home on a shady street of a quiet village and since his retirement from active business their life is largely what they make it. They go South in the winter, and return with the larks in the spring. Both are active and hale, bright - eyed and fun - loving.

"How can two folks like you keep so young all these years?" I wondered, with characteristic bluntness.

And he answered, quickly, but with a note in his voice that belied its lightness — "It's the way she feeds me. Reckon you don't know it, but 10 years ago we were 'older' than we are now."

I looked my question. His wife took up the story. "Ten years ago, after all the children were married and gone, Dad and I both were ailing. I was diabetic and he had lost appetite and begun to puff every time he did a lick of work. My doctor put me on a diet — it set me thinking. You see, when the children were little I was counted a good cook —anyway they ate everything as fast as I could prepare it. But with just Dad and me, I'd got into the habit of opening tin cans, or stirring up ready - mixed batches of foods out of boxes. Seemed like wasting to buy lots of milk and eggs and fancy green stuff for just us two. Seemed like wasting current to heat up the kitchen for what little cooking I had to do. Lots o' times he wouldn't eat it, anyway. And I never could bear to throw good food away.

"But I got to thinking hard, one day — happened to be Fred's birthday. And I took lots of pains to get him just the food I knew he liked best. I had baked potatoes and ham and a tossed green salad, topped off with warm cherry pie and good coffee — served on our best china. All I ate myself was the salad and the coffee but we both felt so good afterward that we took a long ride and talked things through.

"We decided, that day, to study diet and practice what we learned. We decided that plenty of every sort of food and plenty of time to prepare and eat it was a cheap extravagance that might add years to our life together.

"So Fred has the marketing habit now — he brings home armfuls of greens and all the fresh fruit in season. And I've collected a whole new set of recipes suited just to us two, and I get quite a kick out of making each meal an occasion. Fred often brings someone home with him — there's always plenty — and I know we enjoy living more than we used to. Besides we're both well and that's worth more than anything else."

Frankly Speaking

Housing Program Will Aid Farmers

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Farmers who need money help in getting better homes or even a little more land can obtain it—if they're approved—through the government's new housing program.

No one, though, can get any of the help unless he can't raise the money in any other way, such as a bank loan.

The program will give two kinds of help: Loans, which have to be paid back within 33 years at 4 per cent interest; and grants, which are outright gifts of government money.

The grants can't total more than $25,000,000. The loans won't exceed $250,000,000. Since the program is to run for only four years, all the loans and grants have to be arranged for within these next four years.

The program does not set a limit on how much any one farmer can receive. The government will have to decide that in each individual case, based on the individual's ability to pay back.

This is the thinking behind the program, as outlined by the congressmen who approved it.

Nearly one-third of farm families don't receive sufficient income from farming to pay for needed improvements to their houses and other buildings necessary to make their farming successful.

This is a brief explanation of who can get the government help, and for what, provided, as mentioned above, he can't get the help from any private source, like a bank:

1. A loan to build or repair a house or barn. If you're one of those able to make a living off your farm, you'll have to pay back on the interest and principal every year for 33 years.

2. If you're a farmer whose farm is not big enough to support you and your family, you can get a loan to buy more land and, if you need to build or repair a house or barn, you can get a loan for that, too.

In the case of No. 2—because this farmer has tougher going than the farmer in No. 1—the government will let you skip the interest and one-half the principal for the first five of the 33 years in which you have to pay back.

3. The government will give grants, or outright money gifts, to help poor farmers in emergency situations. This money is not for any new building but for necessary repairs, such as roofing to keep out the rain, screens to keep out flies, and so on.

No. 3 is intended only for farmers in a bad fix, with the idea that needed repairs will give them some kind of livable homes until they're able to find better ones.

If all this means you, you start by filing an application with the nearest county supervisor—a government agent—who is employed by the Federal Farmers Home Administration (FHA).

The FHA has an office, meaning a supervisor, in 1,500 of the nation's 3,000 counties. The offices usually are at a county seat.

Then the supervisor turns the application over to a local committee of farmers, usually three men. There's such a committee, which does work for the FHA in every county.

This committee will examine the application and decide whether you really need the kind of help you're asking for under the new program.

If it finds you do, and that you can't get help from private sources, it can recommend to the FHA that you get the help. FHA must follow the committee's recommendations.

(The FHA runs the farmers' part of the new housing program. The Public Housing Administration will handle the slum-clearances and public housing part of it).

Note this: Congress has approved the program outlined here, and how much money should be spent. It has not yet voted the money for it. That comes later.

Pleas Result In Probation Of Galionite

Witnesses Appear For Indicted Man

GALION — Richard Brentlinger, 35, Galion indicted for burglary of a building by the Crawford county grand jury in Bucyrus July 2, pleaded guilty at his arraignment in Bucrus yesterday before Common Pleas Judge C U Ahl and was placed on probation for five years

Requests of leniency by five Galion men, supported by Leo J. Scanlon, county prosecuting attorney, and Sheriff Ralph E. Schreck were credited with aiding in securing the probation.

Brentlinger admitted the theft of $316 in cash and merchandise from the Firestone store here where he formerly was employed

Full restitution has been made, according to a statement to the court.

Taft Takes Anti-Alliance Stand In Speech Before Senate

Fears Pact Can Lead To New War

Assails Cost Of Program

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, announced yesterday he will vote against the North Atlantic pact because in his opinion it obligates the U. S. to arm Europe and will "promote war rather than peace."

The Senate GOP policy chairman said he "regretfully" reached his decision. He said he would still change his mind and vote for the twelve-nation alliance if the Senate adds a reservation denying any "legal or moral obligation" on this country to rearm Europe.

Sen. Watkins (R) Utah, told newsmen he is sponsoring just such an amendment. However, supporters of the treaty claim the Senate will defeat all reservations.

Taft, in a Senate speech, said: "Circumstances which may arise which will make our obligation (to supply arms) most inconvenient. The government by one of the nations (signing the pact) may be taken over by the communist party of that nation. In future wars these arms may be used against us instead of on our side."

Taft assailted the cost of the arms program, which he said might run to a total cost of 24 billion dollars. The administration has estimated the cost of the rearmament program at one billion, 130 million dollars the first year.

In charging that the pact would promote war rather than peace, Taft declared that "Russia may decide that the arming of western Europe looks like an attack upon Russia." He continued:

"Its view may be unreasonable and I think it is. But from the Russian standpoint it may not seem unreasonable. They may well decide that if war is the certain result, that war might better occur now rather than after the arming of Europe is completed.

"The arming of Western Europe cannot be achieved overnight. In fact, it will be years before the European nations could resist an all-out Russian attack. During that period, I feel that the arms policy is more likely to incite war than to deter it."

Vote ECA Funds Cut

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Senate appropriations committee yesterday voted $3,778,000,000 in Marshall plan spending for fiscal 1950—10 per cent below President Truman's budget request.

In voting the funds after an hour of heated debate, the committee overrode its chairman—Sen. Kenneth McKellar, D., Tenn. — who had sought a bigger slash in European Recovery funds.

The $3,778,000,000 voted by the committee compared with the $4,198,000,000 requested by Mr. Truman. The House had voted $3,568,470,000 for 10½ months of fiscal 1950.

The sum voted by the Senate committee is for the entire 1950 fiscal year. It includes $150,000,000 to be furnished to western European nations as long-term export-import loans for which no congressional appropriation is necessary at this time.

The committee action is subject to approval by the full Senate, which is in the midst of an economy drive. If approved by the Senate, it must go to conference with the House.

June Traffic Injuries Show Drop

Total for Year Surpasses 1948

Twelve persons were injured in 129 traffic mishaps in Mansfield during June, as compared with with 30 hurt in 137 accidents the same month last year, according to the traffic bureau's monthly report.

June figures bring the total number of accidents in Mansfield so far this year to 786 as compared with 745 last year.

Although there have been more accidents this year there were fewer persons injured.

In the first six months this year there were 83 person injured in traffic accidents, while during the same period last year 94 were hurt.

Of the 12 persons injured in June, six were pedestrians, one was riding a bicycle, and five were passengers in automobiles.

There were no fatal accidents in the city during the month.

Investigating police officers reported 63 of the 230 persons involved in the accidents were guilty of a traffic violation.

Eleven of these motorists failed to give the right - of - way to another car, and 15 accidents resulted from a motorist following too closely the car ahead.

The report shows 66 of the accidents occurred in the residential district, 50 in the shopping district, and only 11 in the manufacturing area.

Involved were 188 male and only 28 female motorists.

The breakdown in age group shows the largest number of accidents involved drivers between the ages of 25 and 34. They accounted for 49 of the accidents.

Controversy Over Judge In Hiss Case Sparks New Fight

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The controversy over the conduct of Judge Samuel H. Kaufman in the Alger Hiss perjury trial flared yesterday on the House floor.

Reps Moulter (D) N. Y., and Hays (D) Ohio, sharply assailed Republican members of the House un-American Activities committee who criticized Kaufman at the same time.

However, Rep. Cox (D) Ga., joined the Republicans in censuring the federal judge.

Moulter termed statements by Reps. Nixon (R) Calif., Case (R) S. D., and Velde (R) Ill., as an "unwarranted attempt to besmirch the character of Judge Kaufman."

He asserted the criticism was "unfair" in that Kaufman was prevented from replying lest he prejudice the interest of the defendant.

Hays, referring to Nixon, commented:

"I am aware of the fact that the gentleman from California has made some unwarranted, vicious, partisan, political accusations against the administration in connections with this case."

Hays asserted that committee members have no "moral right to retry this case in the public press."

Cox, in rebuttal, charged that Kaufman's conduct of the trial was "a discredit to the bench." He paid tribute to Prosecutor Thomas F. Murphy "for almost single handedly beating down an attempt to cover up the espionage conspiracy and to let the defendant escape."

Bares Mental Health Needs

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The head of the State Welfare department reported yesterday the state needed 9,112 more hospital beds for acute mentally ill persons to bring Ohio up to the national average as established by a study made back in 1946.

Welfare Director J. H. Lamneck said there would be an immediate re - allocation of counties served by the various state hospitals in an effort to meet the situation.

He said the Cleveland and Dayton hospital districts were particularly bad.

Alan Young Gets Award

The son of a former Mansfield pastor has been awarded an $850 scholarship to be used this fall at Western Reserve academy, Hudson.

The former Mansfielder is Robert Alan Young, son of Rev. and Mrs. Peter Young, Norfolk, Va. Rev. Young was pastor of the First Congregational church here from 1934 to 1945.

Robert took examinations for the scholarship to the college preparatory school at his high school in Norfolk last April. The award was made last week.

Rev. Young now is pastor of the Congregational Christian temple, Norfolk, Va.

Scott Faces New Test

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A new revolt threatened today to put Hugh D. Scott jr., out of his job as Republican national chairman.

Scott dismissed the rebellion lightly, but Republican leaders said they would not be surprised if a group of national committee members force a meeting which might vote Scott out.

Originating in a secret session at Pittsburgh over the week end, the anti-Scott movement apparently had gained strength among national committee members who sought unsuccessfully to unseat him in a meeting in Omaha, Neb., last January. Scott won that test, 54 to 50.

Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown, an Ohio national committee member who attended the Pittsburgh meeting, said at Dayton that Scott was not asked to resign. She did say that she and others were "very dissatisfied at Scott's repeated attempts to by-pass the national committee."

She added she wants him to stay on as chairman if he will work in close harmony with the committee.

Foreign Students Tour U. S.

America Is Land of the 'Ready-Chewed'

MARIETTA — (INS) — The United States in the eyes of visiting European children is a somewhat complicated hodgepodge of richness and misery, a "paradise for young people" where you do as you please.

These comments were forthcoming from a little band of 32 students, representing 11 foreign nations, who stopped on a tour of the nation at Marietta college.

A 17-year-old Finnish girl, Kaarina Solja, thought "Americans take things ready-chewed." She explained "I mean . . . so many things selected for them . . . books, candy, fruit . . ."

Jean-Loup Piquet, 17-year-old French student, said in America you can do what you please. "Democrats argue with Republicans in gentle terms. In France a communist would rather shoot his adversary than argue with him."

Another French boy noted high living standards of the U. S. but at the same time pointed out the "huge ditch dug and kept between white and Negro — the fine hygienic handling of food, but the great waste."

A Netherlands girl, 18-year-old Luberya Lantsink, summed up the group's feelings by calling America "a land of extremes" where the "silliest and craziest things can happen. . America seems to me often a child of 15 . . . in many ways it has to grow."

Urges Rural Residents to Mark National Farm Safety Week

County Agent C. N. McGrew today urged rural residents to recognize the need for farm safety and then "to do something about it."

His statement came with the announcement that National Farm Safety week has been scheduled for the week of July 24. National Farm Safety Week was set up in a proclamation issued by President Truman.

In calling on the nation to observe National Farm Safety Week, the President requested "all organizations and persons interested in farm life and welfare to join in a continuing drive against practices which endanger farm people in their homes, in the fields, and on the highways."

"I also urge," the proclamation continues, "each member of every farm family to study the hazards associated with rural life with a view of performing all tasks in the safest manner possible every day throughout the year."

The week is sponsored by the National Safety council, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and many farm organizations. Listed as the long time objective is "to make all members of every American family as safe as possible."

The immediate purpose is to emphasize the importance of farm accident prevention and to point out the need for action."

Hit Song, 'Riders In the Sky,' Tops Million Sales For New Mark

"RIDERS IN THE SKY" got another order for 75,000 records last week in June, making it the most amazing platter in the history of RCA-Victor.

They all thawt it had passed its peak. It has sold over one million and a quarter records and still going big, they say.

The Stanley Theater near 41st, which usually show-cases Russian films, has booked full-length Chinese movies now that the Reds are in control in China. . . Production plans for Broadway's new season are so dubious that many actors are grabbing jobs in any business. Hunger being the way it is . Hedy Lamarr's famed film, "Ecstasy," will be re-issued under "My Life." It catapulted her to Hollywood.

"Beggar's Opera," which gave Kurt Weill, the composer, the idea for his "Three Penny Opera," was banned by the Nazis for a dozen years. It is now Germany's top hit.

Carolyn Marsh, too long absent from Broadway, is clicking at Club Charles, Baltimore. . .Roy Sedley, vaudeville veteran (featured at the Iceland Minstrel Show) introduces himself as an "Arthur Godfrey loser". . Chorus girls are having their toughest Summer. Two more night spots dropped their girl-lines. . .Guy Lombardo, who resumes at the Waldorf's Starlight Roof, will get the biggest guarantee he ever got there.

The Harlem Opera House marquee reserves its biggest lights for Harlem pets, not Hollywood favorites It says: "Dooley Wilson and H. Bogart in 'Cassablanca' with I. Bergman"!

Ethel Merman has her well-known "Oh, You Kid!" glint in both eyes again since shelving 12 lbs. . .Jane Gilbert powers model, just wrote a new song titled: "Cup Cake Gertie." Decca will wax it if it can pass the censors.

You got a copy of Looey Armstrong's old platter of "Thankful" around? Well, play it—then put on "Tired". . .While the Broadway spots are groaning about bad biz, Billy Reed just handed his two silent partners three times their original investments in the Little Club. . "Slow Boat to China" has finally reached France and is now The Big Thing along the Riviera.

★

Kay Starr's new costume (which is rated "so novel and different") cost her little more than $1. She made it herself. Has 100 pennies woven into it. . Guess who the rage of Vienna opera is ? Daniza Ilitsch, who was such a flop at the Met. . . Most films seldom run longer than 4 weeks in N.Y. "Hamlet" is in its 10th month!

Eddy Howard is singing the Blues. A recording firm folded owing him $175,000 in royalties. Some Broadway shows will appeal to play angels via tv on a 15-city hookup. People in their parlors will witness the rehearsals and be asked to help "back" the production. Terrific idea.

"Shuffle Along" is among the shows signed on a 13-week series. Jane Pickens gave up $1,500 per wk at NBC to get ready for her role in the musical version of "The Little Foxes." That's what they mean when they say "Stage Struck". . .Lindsay and Crouse are conscientious playwrights. They are doing a complete rewrite of "Life with Mother" for the road tour!. . .Virginia Mayo will be at Jones Beach for the unveiling of her latest film, "The Girl from Jones Beach," but her groom(Michael O'Shea) will be with her. The orchestra, therefore, will now strike up: "Lets Forget the Whole Thing!"

'Jungle Woman' Yearns For Trip To Africa, Dislikes Park Avenue

OSA JOHNSON, the first lady of the jungle, lives on Park avenue now—and it makes her homesick for the serenity of Africa.

"I like my jungles because I don't have any competition there," she laughed.

"Here you get invited to dinner and right away you start worrying, 'What shall I wear and what will so-and-so wear?'"

"But there I can wear khaki trousers and hunting boots and put my little gun on my shoulder and go out into the jungle and feel I am queen of all I survey. I can look up at the blue sky and feel all Africa is mine."

She said she was going back, too, for one last trek to the land whose wild life was filmed by her explorer husband, Martin Johnson, as she stood guard with a gun.

Johnson was killed in a plane crash in California in 1937, and Osa was injured badly.

"I have a secret valley," she said. "I can't tell you where it is. It has never been explored, but Martin and I always vowed we would go back. It's teeming with big game--lions, rhinos, elephants, buffalo--everything. There must be at least a million head of big game in that valley."

She is planning an expedition consisting of two station wagons, six jeeps with trailers, and a helicopter.

"I can flutter over in the helicopter and tickle the backs of elephants and ostriches. You should see the ostriches fan themselves with their plumes as they run. They make Sally Rand look like a sissy.

"I want to make a full length color film of wild life there. It's never been done.

"Animals in zoos are out of their environment. They lose their color and become wishy-washy. But a wild zebra--he looks like black and white satin, sleek and fat and glossy. And the giraffe--he's a gorgeous bronze. He glistens in the sun."

Osa has kept busy since her husband's death. She has published nine books and is now writing four more for children, based on the life stories of her own animal pets. She is also completing a cookbook of exotic recipes, preparing for a lecture tour and negotiating a television contract. She has a library of 2,000,000 feet of film taken by her husband on their travels.

Now 55, Osa is still as vivacious and energetic as the day she married Johnson at 16.

"I thought we'd live in Chanute, Kas., and grow a couple of kids and a vegetable garden," she said. "But Martin had an itchy foot. So I went off to the jungle with him, and I fell in love with it, too."

She estimates she has traveled "roughly 1,500,000 miles" in her career.

"We did pretty well for a couple of kids who started from nothing," she smiled.

Blood Donor Unit Falls Far Short

Only 64 Pints Donated Monday

The Red Cross drive for blood was far short of its quota at the half way point yesterday. The bloodmobile units stationed at Park Avenue Baptist Church obtained only 64 pints of blood from 75 donors during the day according to Mrs. Stuart M. Weaver, chairman of the blood service committee.

Blood can be donated today from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the church on Park avenue west, across from the Red Cross chapter house. Persons wishing to donate blood today need not have an appointment.

The quota for the two - day visit is 200 pints. The unit visits Mansfield every five weeks and Mansfield has been falling far short of its quota on every visit. The unit obtained 114 pints in its last visit here.

The blood is taken to Columbus to be typed and examined and then returned for use in Richland county hospitals. More blood has been used in Richland County during the past few months than the Red Cross unit has collected.

On a recent visit to Mansfield reformatory, however, the Red Cross unit had 200 more volunteers than they could use.

Porkers Skip Out On Date With Death

CHICAGO — (INS) — Four little pigs who wouldn't go to market have turned Chicago into big-game country.

They huffed and puffed away from the Reliable Packing company when someone broke open the lock on their truck door.

A fifth porker, soon to be converted to ham, bacon and pigskin, was brought down with a flying tackle by 18-year-old Raymond Miglieri.

But the porker's stout companions beat the wolf to the door.

Police said the porkers have a "reliable" date.

No 'Wolf Call' Yet

10-Month-Old Baby Whistles

When Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crall, 938 Belmont avenue, have company, they don't have to worry about how to entertain them. Their 10-month-old son, Thomas Eugene, takes care of that problem.

"Tommy," as his parents call him, is the wonder of the neighborhood because of his ability to whistle at a young age. The baby began whistling when he was about six and a half months old and has been at it ever since.

Mrs. Crall said she and her husband often whistle and the baby made his first try after watching and listening to them.

The baby hasn't mastered any tunes yet and his father's attempts to teach him the "wolf call" so far have been unsuccessful. But he entertains himself and others with his tuneless whistling.

Mrs. Crall said she and her husband didn't think their son's ability to whistle was so unusual until all their neighbors and friends began exclaiming about it. Now they're pretty proud of their son's talent.

Tommy learned to whistle almost as soon as he learned to talk. His vocabulary still is limited to a few words such as "mama," "daddy," and "bye-bye," of course.

WHISTLING BABY—Mrs. Russell Crall, 938 Belmont avenue, holds her whistling son, 10-month-old Thomas Eugene. It was Tommy's nap time when the photographer arrived, and he was too sleepy to pucker up and perform. But neighbors and friends agree that the baby is usually very affable and whistling for visitors.

1,200 FHA Girls Meet

Open Convention At Columbus

COLUMBUS—(INS)— An invasion of more than 1,200 young girls struck Columbus today for the opening of the 13-state central regional meeting of the Future Homemakers of America.

With Ohio boasting the largest representation -- 325 -- the convention was to get underway with Pauline Stout, national advisor of the four-year-old organization, on the rostrum. Mrs. Edith Keller, state music supervisor and a State Education department staffer, also was slated to speak to the initial session.

Miss Shirley Osborne, Harper, Kansas, national president was to preside over a panel session of family life with Dr. Bernice Moore, Texas, consultant on homemaking education.

Miss Osborne, who arrived in Columbus last night, told newsmen that FHA has nothing to do with "Future Husbands of America." She said:

"Most people have the idea we are studying ways to get husbands. But that isn't it at all. We are trying to develop better homes throughout America regardless of what our place in those homes is."

States represented in the home economics group are Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Illinois and Kansas.

State Patrol Hunts Truck

State patrol posts throughout Ohio were alerted today for a missing 1948 red Dodge truck and trailer, missing on the road since last Thursday.

The missing truck was reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday by Fred Guiler, 30½ South Park street, and by Richard C. Smith, 207 East First street.

Guiler and Smith said no trace of the truck has been found since it was last seen at a roadside park at Sharonville by state patrolmen. Driver of the truck, they said is Kenneth Stidd of New Philadelphia.

The truck left Mansfield on June 27 for Chicago. On July 7 it left Chicago for Cincinnati where it was due on July 8.

Home Looted By Burglars

Personal property and cash, totaling $228 were reported stolen from the home of Joe B. Hicks, 184 Central avenue.

Hicks, who made the report to police at 4:10 p. m. yesterday, said the burglary took place between 9 p. m. Saturday and 5 p. m. Sunday. Entrance, he said, was gained by prying open a window on the southeast corner of the house.

Included in the missing items were a ring, valued at $50; a metal box, containing $100 in cash and insurance papers, a pair of shoes, valued at $18 and a suit, valued at $60.

Gifts Presented

Paul Herlihy and I. K. Sorgen were presented engraved cigarette lighters as a token of appreciation of their work as first aid instructors for the auxiliary police of the Mansfield Police department.

The gifts were presented at a meeting at the McCready farm. After the presentation members drilled until dark.

Brother Survives Crash By 'Miracle'

"It's a miracle!" Gordon Watson, 672 Manchester road exclaimed as he looked at yesterday's front page picture of the twisted Lockheed plane in which three were killed.

As it said in the cutlines under the picture: "the fourth member of the party was thrown clear of the crash but suffered second degree burns." That was the miracle Watson was talking about. The fourth member of the party was his brother, W. E. Watson, 1239 Chase avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Watson, owner and manager of the Watson Jewelry store 89 North Main street, said his brother and C. H. Morse, III, vice president of the Fairbanks, Morse company of Chicago were on their way to St. Louis to visit one of the plants. Morse, as well as the pilot and co-pilot of the plane were killed in the crash near Roanoke, Ill.

"One of the motors failed and threw the plane into a nose dive," Watson said he had been told by his sister - in - law.

"When the plane struck the ground, the door beside my brother was thrown open and he was thrown out of the door by the impact," Watson continued. "His clothing was on fire but he had presence of mind enough to roll in the wet grass and mud. The field was wet from a recent rain.

"It was just a miracle, that's all."

Watson continued that his brother, a district supervisor for the Fairbanks - Morse company, is confined to a hospital in Evanston, Ill.

"I understand he's in a severe state of shock, but he's been given a very good chance of recovering," he added optimistically.

The brother is married and has a 15 - year - old son.

Police said Ralph Ferguson, 24, of 96 West Fourth street, suffered a laceration of the forehead, when thrown against the windshield by the impact.

Driver of the other car was Arthur W. Wheatley of McElroy road, who told officers he was going west on West Fourth and fell asleep. Wheatley's car struck the rear of Ferguson's car which was parked in front of 98 West Fourth street. The accident occurred at 1 a. m. today.

Ferguson was taken to General hospital in a police cruiser, treated and released. No charges were filed in the mishap.

Board Hears Protest

'Zimmerman Gets Hearing

A three-hour hearing for Roger C. Zimmerman, 26, of 484 South Diamond street, dismissed Mansfield police officer was held last night by the civil service commission, but the commission's ruling was deferred for several days.

The officer who was dismissed from the force on June 13 by Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison for shielding a hit-skip driver, appealed the dismissal to the commission in an attempt to regain his job.

The commission has the authority to re-instate Zimmerman or to uphold the service-safety director's dismissal order.

The dismissed patrolman may appeal the civil service commission's ruling to common pleas court if he so desires.

Following three hours of testimony during which time six other police officers were called to the stand as character witnesses, Civil Service Commission Secretary T. A. Woodard, said: "We will defer our ruling until we study the testimony submitted here."

The commission chairman promised a ruling at "an early date."

Luther Walker, 32, of Amoy, driver of a car that struck and injured six-year-old Marcia McNaul when she was crossing Main street on May 20, was served a subpoena ordering him to appear at the hearing, but he was not called to the stand.

ACTION DELAYED

Four days after the hit-skip accident in which the girl was injured, Walker was arrested by police and at that time he implicated Patrolman Roger Zimmerman.

He told the arresting officers that he had told Zimmerman about the accident and the patrolman told him "to forget about it, and that he would take care of it."

However, the patrolman was not suspended until June 8 following a municipal court hearing for Luther Walker, on the charge of leaving the scene after the accident.

At that hearing Walker told the court the same story he had told the arresting officers.

However, Zimmerman has claimed he had no knowledge that Walker was involved in the accident.

The patrolman, who had been a member of the department one year and seven days when he was suspended by Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab, said Walker told him Harker Zimmerman, the patrolman's brother, had been in an accident.

Six officers who appeared on the stand testified to the effect that Zimmerman was a capable police officer and was well liked by the other men on the force.

However, Capt. Eugene Hartnett, Zimmerman's superior officer for about seven months, said the patrolman lacked "initiative" and depended on his superior officers and other patrolmen to make his decisions for him."

Officers called to the stand besides Capt. Hartnett were: Capt. Clare W. Kyler, Patrolmen Earl Korn, Gordon Drury, Francis Williams and Richard Hildebrand.

The dismissed patrolman was represented by Attorneys Robert Lett and James V. Will. City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch presented the city's case.
